ABOUT

Message from our Executive Director and Board of Directors' Chair

Our journey began in 1966 when we incorporated as Nassau County Law Services Committee. Over time, our services expanded to both counties of Long Island, and in the early 1980s we became Nassau Suffolk Law Services Committee to reflect our broader reach. In 2024, Nassau Suffolk Law Services Committee officially changed its name to Legal Services of Long Island to clearly communicate who we are and what we do. This change helps us avoid confusion with government entities and ensures that our role in the community is unmistakable: providing essential legal assistance to those who need it most.

As we look back, we proudly reflect on a legacy of service and a year of transformation, impact, and unwavering commitment to justice. With the continued support of our funders, sponsors, donors, and community partners, we expanded our reach and deepened our services for thousands of Long Islanders in need. Thanks to the tireless work of our staff, we made meaningful progress in protecting the rights and dignity of those who face legal challenges but cannot afford representation.

Housing preservation work, including eviction defense and foreclosure prevention, saw significant growth in 2024. Our team introduced a new initiative designed to assist homeowners through settlement conferences and pro se filings, supported by an expanding network of volunteer attorneys. These efforts have been critical in helping clients avoid homelessness and maintain stability during a time of continued economic pressure.

Our Pro Bono Unit underwent a major transformation in 2024. Shifting from individual case assignments to a clinic-based model, we hosted successful bankruptcy clinics and laid the foundation for new foreclosure clinics. These efforts were supported by our work on a Pro Bono Innovation Grant, which has allowed us to better organize, scale, and deliver services to those who need them most.

We also strengthened our community presence, particularly in Nassau County, where our office expanded its focus on unemployment-related issues, an area in which many residents still need help but often do not know where to turn. Through outreach and client advocacy, we have helped bridge that gap and ensured that more Long Islanders could access the assistance they deserve.

As we close out 2024, we do so with pride in the progress we have made and gratitude for everyone who made it possible. This has been a year of momentum, transformation, and deepened commitment to the people and communities we serve. Thank you for standing with us as we continue the fight for fairness and equity across Long Island.

WINS FOR THE COMMUNITY

The Civil Unit has served Long Island residents as one of our organization's first units. The Civil Unit assists tenants facing eviction and works proactively to prevent individuals and families from becoming unhoused. Below are summaries of select cases successfully resolved in 2024.

Illegal Lockout Prevented Excess Rent Claim

A landlord sought more than $26,000 in rent in a nonpayment eviction case after locking a tenant out of one bedroom in the rented home. The court determined that blocking access to part of the home without legal authority constituted an illegal partial eviction. Because the landlord wrongfully interfered with the tenant's use of the apartment, the tenant's obligation to pay full rent was suspended for that time. As a result, the court reduced the rent award to $3,000, and the appellate court upheld the decision, reinforcing important protections against unlawful lockouts.

Court Blocks Rent Collection on Illegal Apartment

In September 2024, the Suffolk County District Court issued a strong ruling to protect housing integrity in Smithtown. The landlords, who had illegally converted part of their home into an apartment without the required permit, sought eviction and over $4,000 in back rent from a tenant. While the court granted possession and eviction, it denied the rent claim, citing local zoning laws and public policy against profiting from unlawful rentals. The decision reinforces community safety standards and sends a clear message that illegal apartment conversions will not be rewarded.

Court Dismisses Eviction Over Defective Notice

In September 2024, the Nassau County Supreme Court dismissed an eviction case brought by a local Housing Authority against a tenant accused of repeated misconduct and assaults in a federally subsidized housing complex. The court found that the Housing Authority's termination notice failed to meet federal requirements under HUD regulations, as it lacked sufficient detail and specificity to allow the tenant to prepare a defense. Because the defect could not be cured by later filings or supplemental notices, the petition for ejectment and request to terminate housing benefits were denied, reinforcing due process protections for tenants in public housing.

TESTIMONIALS

Consumer Debt Legal Assistance Project

Former client of Helen Wrobel, Esq.

"I want to thank you so much for helping close this judgment against me. You have gone above and beyond this time and last time for me. It's much appreciated for all your work."

Community Legal Help Project

Former client of Roberta Scoll, Esq.

"I want to sincerely thank The Community Legal Help Project for the invaluable guidance and legal advice that helped me win my case in small claims court. I met you and Barbara at the Hicksville Library during the "Ask a Lawyer" event. Barbara took the time to review my case, explain how the system works, and guide me through what I needed to do. I left that day feeling informed, supported, and much more confident. Her advice was clear, practical, and empowering. It made all the difference in helping me prepare and successfully present my case, ultimately resulting in a favorable judgment. I can't thank you enough. I truly appreciate all the help I received. I won't hesitate to recommend The Community Legal Help Project to others seeking legal guidance, and I will certainly turn to you again should the need arise in the future."

Foreclosure Prevention Unit

Former client of Patricia Caruso, Esq.

"I want to express my heartfelt thank you for all that you and Legal Services of Long Island did for me and my children to save my home. Your thoughtfulness and care that I was given was so touching. I am so blessed. Thanks to you, me and my sons have hope for a new start and a bright future. They have seen that people are good and generous who help those in need. I am so appreciative and grateful for you. Thank you so much!"

Suffolk Pro Bono Project

Former client of Kiersten Bartolotta, Esq.

"Just want to inform you that we are finally my son's guardian legally. We received the letter from the court yesterday. We are very happy that we were able to finish the process thanks to our volunteer attorney Carl Grasso, Pro Bono Coordinator Kiersten and the pro bono support staff at Legal Services of Long Island. Thank you so much for all your help, support, and your monthly checkups."

Volunteer Lawyers Project

Former client of Reisa Brafman, Esq.

"I had a wonderful experience working with the attorney, Kamini Fox, and Legal Services of Long Island Volunteer Lawyers Project. Prior to receiving help, I was terrified and thought my life would be over. Kamini was very helpful, kind, and supportive. She helped me throughout the whole Bankruptcy process and never blamed me. I am satisfied with the outcome. She got my credit card and private student loans discharged. Initially, she said that my private student loans being discharged would be unlikely, but to my surprise the private student loans were also discharged. I am now employed and finally feel like I can breathe. I would recommend others to Legal Services of Long Island and to Kamini Fox."

COLLABORATIONS

Community Legal Help Project Collaborations

LSLI's Community Legal Help Project (CLHP) partners with Touro Law Center's clinics to have professors and law students providing legal information at the local Suffolk County libraries regarding immigration, bankruptcy, and elder law. In 2024, CLHP partnered with CARECEN to provide much-needed legal advice to our immigrant communities. In addition, we partnered with multiple Suffolk County libraries including Brentwood Public Library, Middle Country Public Library (Centereach), Half Hollow Hills Public Library (Dix Hills), Patchogue-Medford Library (Patchogue), Amityville Public Library (Amityville), and Riverhead Free Library (Riverhead) to provide space to meet with clients and additional outreach for the program.

Domestic Violence Subcontracting

Legal Services of Long Island contracts with The Retreat, Inc and Brighter Tomorrows to represent victims of Domestic Violence in Suffolk Family Courts in Central Islip and Riverhead. Clients are served through our Domestic Violence Unit (DV unit) and are assisted in obtaining Orders of Protection, Support and Custody. The DV unit also handles paternity matters as well as abuse and neglect cases brought by Child Protective Services in Family Court. The attorneys and paralegal in the unit work closely with advocates in the respective agencies to bring a fair and just outcome for the victims of Domestic Violence and their families.

EDRP Collaboration

LSLI's Education and Disability Rights Project (EDRP) has developed a partnership with the Women's Opportunity Rehabilitation Center, Inc. (WORC), located in Hempstead, New York, to assist girls under 17 years old who live in that community and who are at risk of involvement and/or are involved in the juvenile justice system. The program, which is funded by the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention (OJJDP) is designed to "reduce risk factors and promote protective factors for girls who come in contact with the juvenile justice system, and place them on a path toward success, stability and long-term contribution to society." EDRP will provide: 1) advice and counsel to the students in the program regarding general education issues; and 2) advocacy to qualified students in the area of special education.

Human Rights Project Collaboration

LSLI's Human Rights Rights Project (HRP) works with organizations on state and local levels to advocate for the people of Long Island. We are part of the Coalition of Re-Entry Advocates (CORA) which works to coordinate Re-Entry advocates across the state and provide education and training to the community. We are also part of the Nassau County Re-Entry Taskforce which is run by the Leadership Training Institute (LTI). LTI works with our client base to help provide education and job training programs. We receive referrals from both programs.

Senior Citizen Law Project

LSLI is a member of Nassau County's Enhanced Multidisciplinary Team (E-MDT), which addresses all forms of elder abuse—financial exploitation, physical abuse, psychological abuse, sexual abuse and neglect by others. The E-MDT, which is funded through OVS/VOCA and meets on a monthly basis, brings together entities with unique resources and skills to provide improved and effective cross-systems collaboration and specialized responses, resulting in restored safety and security to older adults on Long Island. We have partnered with Family and Children's Association to provide an elder law attorney to attend the meetings, review and provide consultation on cases that are brought to the team's attention. LSLI also provides legal representation where appropriate.

Tenants' Rights Project and Statewide Collaboration

LSLI is working with the Empire Justice Center to provide eviction prevention services to all of Long Island. We are working together to provide legal representation and conduct trainings. We are also working with legal services organizations across all of New York to create a statewide coordinated intake portal for organizations outside of New York City to ensure that anyone who needs service is connected to the correct organization in their region.
